

Donald E. Campbell is a professor of law at Mississippi College School of Law, where he teaches Ethics and Professional Responsibility; Property; Land Use and Planning; Wills & Estates; and Construction Law. He earned a Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Florida focusing on the judicial confirmation process. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, and his J.D. summa cum laude from Mississippi College School of Law. He is coauthor of a treatise on legal and judicial ethics in Mississippi (with the late Jeffrey Jackson) entitled Ethics and Professional Responsibility for Mississippi Lawyers and Judges published by LexisNexis. He serves as co-editor and author of the Mississippi Civil Procedure treatise and the Encyclopedia of Mississippi Law. Prior to joining the MC Law faculty, Professor Campbell served as a clerk for the Honorable Leslie Southwick on the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. He has also served as a member and chair of the Ethics Committee of the Mississippi Bar, a member of the Committee on Common Interest Communities for the Real Property Section of the Mississippi Bar, member of the Mississippi Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Rules, and the Reporter for the Mississippi Code of Judicial Conduct Study Committee.